

Baby Mine!

Every mother feels an indescribable dread of the pain and danger attendant upon the most critical period of her life. Becoming a mother should be a source of joy to all, but the suffering and danger of the ordeal make its anticipation one of misery.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

is the remedy which relieves women of the great pain and suffering incident to maternity; this hour which is dreaded as woman's severest trial is not only made painless, but all the danger is removed by its use. Those who use this remedy are no longer despondent or gloomy; nervousness, nausea and other distressing conditions are avoided, the system is made ready for the coming event, and the serious accidents so common to the critical hour are obviated by the use of Mother's Friend. It is a blessing to woman.

$1.00 PER BOTTLE at all Drug Stores, or sent by mail on receipt of price. BOOKS Containing valuable information of interest to all women will be sent to any address, upon application, by THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Wanted—An Idea Who can think of some thing to patent? Write JOHN WEDDERBURN & CO., Patent Attorneys, Washington, D. C., for their $1.00 price offer and list of two hundred inventions wanted.

MERCHANT'S GARGLING OIL A LINIMENT. To Cure Constipation Forever. Take Castoreum Candy Cathartic. 10c or 25c. If C. C. C. fail to cure, druggists refund money.

PATENTS Cases and Trade-Marks obtained and all Patent business conducted for MODERATE FEES. Our Office is opposite U. S. Patent Office and we can secure patent for you in less than three months from Washington.

Send model, drawing or photo, with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured. A PAMPHLET, "How to Obtain Patents," with full list of same in the U. S. and foreign countries, sent free. Address: C. A. SNOW & CO. U. S. Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

AUSTIN HOTEL F. O. AUSTIN, M'gr., 531 West Market Street Between 5th and 6th, Louisville, Ky.

CLERKS: R. L. BAKER AND T. O. BAKER. Louisville Dental Co.,

OWENSBORO, KY. Gold Crowns . . . $5 to $7 Porcelain Crowns . . . 3 to 5 Heat set of teeth (no better made no matter how much you pay) . . . $8 Gold fillings . . . $1 up Silver filling . . . 75c Extracting, per tooth . . . 25c Painless extracting with Vitalized Air . . . 50c

Extracting free when Artificial Teeth are ordered. Office permanently located

Wanted—An Idea Who can think of some thing to patent? Write JOHN WEDDERBURN & CO., Patent Attorneys, Washington, D. C., for their $1.00 price offer and list of two hundred inventions wanted.

GROVES MAKES CHILDREN AS FAT AS PIGS

TASTELESS CHILL TONIC IS JUST AS GOOD FOR ADULTS. WARRANTED. PRICE 50 CTS.

Paris Medicine Co., St. Louis, Mo. Gentlemen: We sold last year, 600 bottles of GROVES' TASTELESS CHILL TONIC and have bought three more already this year. In all our experience of 14 years, in the drug business, have never sold an article that gave such universal satisfaction as your Tonic. Yours truly, ASKEY, CARR & CO.

For sale by Williams & Bell.

MERCHANT'S GARGLING OIL A LINIMENT. To Cure Constipation Forever. Take Castoreum Candy Cathartic. 10c or 25c. If C. C. C. fail to cure, druggists refund money.

Wanted—An Idea Who can think of some thing to patent? Write JOHN WEDDERBURN & CO., Patent Attorneys, Washington, D. C., for their $1.00 price offer and list of two hundred inventions wanted.

GROVES MAKES CHILDREN AS FAT AS PIGS

TASTELESS CHILL TONIC IS JUST AS GOOD FOR ADULTS. WARRANTED. PRICE 50 CTS.

Paris Medicine Co., St. Louis, Mo. Gentlemen: We sold last year, 600 bottles of GROVES' TASTELESS CHILL TONIC and have bought three more already this year. In all our experience of 14 years, in the drug business, have never sold an article that gave such universal satisfaction as your Tonic. Yours truly, ASKEY, CARR & CO.

For sale by Williams & Bell.

MERCHANT'S GARGLING OIL A LINIMENT. To Cure Constipation Forever. Take Castoreum Candy Cathartic. 10c or 25c. If C. C. C. fail to cure, druggists refund money.

Wanted—An Idea Who can think of some thing to patent? Write JOHN WEDDERBURN & CO., Patent Attorneys, Washington, D. C., for their $1.00 price offer and list of two hundred inventions wanted.

GROVES MAKES CHILDREN AS FAT AS PIGS

TASTELESS CHILL TONIC IS JUST AS GOOD FOR ADULTS. WARRANTED. PRICE 50 CTS.

Paris Medicine Co., St. Louis, Mo. Gentlemen: We sold last year, 600 bottles of GROVES' TASTELESS CHILL TONIC and have bought three more already this year. In all our experience of 14 years, in the drug business, have never sold an article that gave such universal satisfaction as your Tonic. Yours truly, ASKEY, CARR & CO.

For sale by Williams & Bell.

MERCHANT'S GARGLING OIL A LINIMENT. To Cure Constipation Forever. Take Castoreum Candy Cathartic. 10c or 25c. If C. C. C. fail to cure, druggists refund money.

Wanted—An Idea Who can think of some thing to patent? Write JOHN WEDDERBURN & CO., Patent Attorneys, Washington, D. C., for their $1.00 price offer and list of two hundred inventions wanted.

GROVES MAKES CHILDREN AS FAT AS PIGS

TASTELESS CHILL TONIC IS JUST AS GOOD FOR ADULTS. WARRANTED. PRICE 50 CTS.

Paris Medicine Co., St. Louis, Mo. Gentlemen: We sold last year, 600 bottles of GROVES' TASTELESS CHILL TONIC and have bought three more already this year. In all our experience of 14 years, in the drug business, have never sold an article that gave such universal satisfaction as your Tonic. Yours truly, ASKEY, CARR & CO.

For sale by Williams & Bell.

THE HARTFORD REPUBLICAN.

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE PARTY IN THE FOURTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.

VOL. IX.

HARTFORD, KY., FRIDAY, JULY 2, 1897.

NO. 49.

DARKNESS AND DAYLIGHT,
Or Lights and Shadows of
New York.

In this new and superbly illustrated work a noble Christian woman tells the thrilling story of her personal experience in Gospel, temperance, mission, and rescue-work in a great city. No recent publication is now commanding so much attention nor has any other called forth such ringing words of "God-speed" from ministers and eminent women. It has been preached about from famous pulpits, read by tens of thousands of subscribers, and made the subject of many a clergyman's Sunday evening lecture. Its authorship is fourfold, its four authors being no less than:—Mrs. Helen Campbell, Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., Col. Thomas W. Knox, and Inspector Thomas Byrnes, Chief of the New York Detective Bureau.

Mrs. Campbell, the principal writer, certainly was a woman commissioned of God, and "In His Name" spent many years as a city missionary. What a wonderful work she did. How devoted and blessed her labors were. It is a story never to be forgotten. This unique volume presents these thrilling experiences of Christian endeavor with the hundreds of pathetic and amusing scenes that were packed into them; it portrays life in a great city by day and by night "As Seen by a Woman"; it shows the power of the Gospel to redeem souls from the lowest depths; it gives striking testimonies of the redeemed; and from all these rich and varied experiences it draws living truths for heart and heart that are worth to any reader ten times the price of the book. Mrs. Campbell's account of rescue-work is full of wonderfully touching incidents. Stranger stories are here told than romance ever dreamed of, every one of them drawn from real life by a woman's hand. In every chapter she weaves in anecdote after anecdote, incident after incident, story after story, and the reader's attention is held breathless to the end of the volume. "Strange but most suggestive is the fact," says Bishop Cox in warmly commending this volume, "that Christ is to be visited in these dens and dives; the are those whom He will bear in mind when He says: 'Ye visited me, or, when he says: 'Ye did it not to Me.'"

Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott's life-long interest in City Mission work, and his persona share in that work, pre-eminently fitted him to write for this book. In his introduction to it he says:—"My interest in these phases of city life dates from my college days. From that day to this—over a third of a century—I have continued the studies then begun, and the subject of this book has been one of the great subjects of my study—sometimes in literature, often in life."

No appeal from temperance advocates can do more to promote the cause of temperance than the thrilling scenes and incidents so well described; at least so says Mrs. Mary A. Livermore and Miss Frances E. Willard. One of the most absorbingly interesting portions of the book is that written by Inspector Byrnes given the ripe experience of thirty years of detective life. Many of the startling revelations he makes are taken from his private diary. They have never before been published.

This fascinating volume is indeed a wonderful tale of Christian love and faith, all alive with intense and striking reality. The best of it is that it is a pure and elevating book from beginning to end—a volume for the family circle. On this point the words of Rev. Dr. Twichell (who has a family of ten children) and Rev. Dr. Magoun, President Iowa College, are worth quoting here: Dr. Twichell writes,—"My wife says that she is going to set our young people on the book right off, for the good it will do them"; and President Magoun says,—"My family finds, where other books our shelves lack interest, this one always holds and rewards attention."

It contains 252 superb engravings, every one of them made from photographs taken from life, mostly by flash light. Every face is a portrait, every scene a scene reality. In looking at these splendid illustrations the reader sees at a glance just how Gospel work is carried on by day and by night by rescue bands; he is shown strange sights in out of the way places that are rarely or never seen by the casual visitor; he is taken into cheap lodging-houses and cellars; into the homes of the poor; into newsboys' lodging-houses; into the police and detective departments, etc.,—nothing seems to be omitted.

We do not know how 740 pages have given us more genuine pleasure. If we speak warmly of the book, it is because it richly deserves it. It is sold only by agents, and is meeting with an enormous sale. Agents who introduce such a work ought to be cordially welcomed. A better work has certainly never come to our table. It will be read over and over again by old and young, with every increasing pleasure and lasting profit. The work is published by the old and well-known firm of A. D. Worthington & Co., Hartford, Conn., whose imprint is sufficient guarantee of the excellence of this first-class volume. Royal Octavo, 740 pages. 252 fine plates, portraits, and text illustrations.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common water glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment of settling indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or had effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists fifty cents and one dollar. For a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail, mention THE HARTFORD REPUBLICAN and send your full post-office address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

FRIENDSHIP.

June 26—The wheat crop is being harvested and is reported to be good.

The corn crop is late on account of the dry, cool weather.

Rev. Rowe preached at Sugar Grove church Sunday night.

Mrs. Evans, of this place, has been very sick for some time, but is somewhat better at this writing.

Uncle Wes Hocker, of near Beaver Dam, representing the South Carolina Marble Works, was in town this week.

Uncle John Ralph and wife, of near Ralph Chapel, were the guests of his son-in-law, Mr. T. D. Royal, this week.

Mrs. M. N. Brandon, who has been very ill for sometime, is thought to be somewhat better.

Died on the 22nd, inst., a little son of Mr. George Belamy, near Deaneville. They have the sympathy of the neighborhood. M.A.

$100 Reward $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists. 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

There is no use taking pills or purgatives to cure chills. Dr. Bell's Peppermint Chili Tonic cures them by itself. It does more than that, too—it gives you a new dress on the inside. It tones you up and makes you strong. It makes you feel some account. Sold on a guarantee. For sale by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

Look Big to Advertise.

When a firm is in the heyday of its prosperity, when business is good and competition not felt, it is no unusual thing for an advertising solicitor to be informed that the concern is so well known and its business already so extensive that advertising is a useless expenditure of money. We have known a number to argue in this way. In almost every instance where this has happened we have seen younger competitors, by judicious advertising and push, pass them in the race for business. Then these concerns that were too well known to advertise would awaken to the situation and their advertisements would again appear, but while they were sleeping their wide awake competitors must necessarily have made inroads into their business, which, with fair treatment and business like methods, they will hold. Let the largest house in any line stop advertising, and note in what incredibly short space of time a larger business will be built up by somebody who works while they sleep.

If your eyes feel like sand were under the lashes, if they burn and your sight is indistinct, Sutherland's Eagle Eye Salve will make the right. It has cured thousands of cases of sore eyes and granulated lids long standing. It cures when others fail. It is harmless. Druggists sell it. For sale by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

CARLISLE

Does Not Care to Be President of the United States.

Says He Would Make the Sacrifice However
For His Constituency.

Now Practicing Law on an Immense Scale in New York.

The Louisville Commercial says: "Hon. John G. Carlisle, ex-Secretary of the United States Treasury, was at the Galt House last night, having arrived from Lexington yesterday afternoon."

"He was called upon by a reporter for the Commercial last night, and when asked if he would state the nature of his business in this city said:

"Yes, sir, I will. I am here to look after the interests of the Comptroller of the Currency in the German National Bank affairs. I hoped to have a consultation with Messrs. Humphrey & Davis so as to learn the nature of the bank's affairs, but I was disappointed, inasmuch as Mr. Humphrey was out of town; but I will hold the consultation with him tomorrow."

"How long will you remain in the city?"

"That I can not tell, I am very anxious to get through and get back to my office. I may have to remain here until Monday, but I can not tell whether we will take any steps in the case during my stay here or not."

"What is there new in the political arena at the present, so far as you know?"

"I positively refuse to be interviewed on any national or political questions, for, as I have said before, I came here on legal business, not political."

Is it true that you have opened an office in New York, and have formed a partnership with one of the largest law firms in that city?"

"Yes, I have opened an office, but I have formed no partnership with any one. I represent one of the largest firms there, but I have no interest in the firm other than to act as counsel for them whenever they deem it necessary to have my advice on any subject."

"Will your visit here this time have any bearing on Kentucky politics or the action of the gold Democrats in regard to their fusion with the Republican party?"

"None whatever. I do not know what the situation is, but one thing I do know, and that is that I will have no time for anything else but legal business."

"Before the reporter for the Commercial had an opportunity to have a talk with the ex-Secretary of the Treasury he found that gentleman in close consultation with several of Louisville's most prominent citizens at the Galt House. One of these happened to be a very prominent doctor, who was an ardent supporter of the Indianapolis platform, and during this conversation this doctor said that the South would have to have another President, and that President would have to be John Griffin Carlisle, of Kentucky."

"To this the great statesman shook his head and said: 'I am very sorry to say that I do not care to be President of the United States; I do not care for the office, but I suppose, should I be compelled to take it, I would have to make the sacrifice in order to please my constituents.'"

Victoria, Queen and Empress.

Victoria's career is the one topic uppermost in the world's mind today. The story of her reign, of the expansion of her empire and of the deeds of its statesmen and sages is a marvelous one. But "men are more than constitutions." The worthy monarch is greater than his realm. The personality of Victoria is a more puissant and convincing fact in human history than even the magnitude of her empire. And this jubilee, which is this week to be celebrated with undreamed and unexampled splendor, is, above all, a personal jubilee. It is not preliminarily to exploit the expansion of the empire or the achievements of its subjects, but to commemorate the Queen's personal achievement in prolonging her reign beyond the compass of any other in English history, and her personal share of credit for all that has been done.

The estimate made of Victoria's personality is that it has been throughout a potent and triumphant fact in most of the great doings of her reign; incomparably more potent than that of any of her predecessors. This, it may well be believed, is entirely true. By a delightful paradox the most constitutional of monarchs has been the most autocratic. The Queen who has most of all subordinated her will to that of her people has most of all impressed her will upon them and upon all the progress of their social arts. That is, explained by the further analysis of her character and circumstances. She is seen to have been from the outset a true Englishwoman, the first really British sovereign the realm has had for many reigns, to have shown herself, in good faith and above suspicion, a consistent and progressive constitutional sovereign, and to have been in the highest and deepest sense of the term a model of true womanhood. When to these conditions we add her unusual intellectual powers and executive ability and "saving common sense," the secret of her unprecedented personal prestige is made obvious.

The world is greatly enriched by such a personality. The boisterous old notion of hero worship," as Mr. Morley felicitously phrases it, may well be seen "to be only a half truth." But it is equally true that "the world will never be able to spare its hero, and the man with the rare and exceptional gift of genius will always be as commanding a figure as he has ever been." Such a figure is that of Great Britain's venerable Queen. Above all the great soldiers and statesmen and writers and scientists of her time, she stands supreme upon the world's oft-degraded degenerate stage, a personality of classic virtues and classic greatness in the arduous greatness of great deeds done. Honor and praise and world-wide congratulations may well be rendered her.—[N. Y. Tribune.]

Sutherland's Eagle Eye Salve cures sore eyes, styes, and granulated lids. It strengthens weak eyes in both old and young. It always all inflammation. It gives a pleasant feeling about the eyes and makes the vision clear and distinct. For sale by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

The Race for Congress. It is not improbable that within a day or two Mr. C. W. Bransford will announce himself a candidate for congress. He has received very strong pressure to make the race and is favorably considering the matter. The speeches Mr. Bransford made in the campaign of 1896 made a very deep impression upon all who heard them. They were pronounced as among the very best that were heard in Kentucky. He had no thought at the time he was made a candidate for elector on the Democratic ticket of ever offering for an office, being simply a business man, but he was deeply interested in the great issue that was then, and continues to now be, a most absorbing one before the people, and he threw his whole heart into the subject. The fruits of that work are now manifest in the demands upon him to make the race for congress.

Mr. J. E. Rowe is also considering seriously the congressional race, but he has just been nominated for Commonwealth's Attorney and the election for that office does not occur until next November. The congressional election occurs in November of next year, but the early and aggressive candidacy of Mr. Dempsey, of Hopkins, will probably force that contest into this year's politics.—[Owensboro Messenger.]

Educate Your Bowels With Castoreum. Candy Cathartic, cure constipation forever. No. 100. If C. C. C. fail, druggists refund money.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

McClure's Magazine for July opens with an interesting account of the actual daily life in a little "Republic" where the citizens and governors are young boys and girls from the poorest and most crowded districts of the City of New York. Private industry and public functions are pursued precisely as by older people in larger republics, and neglect or abuse of either encounters the same pains and penalties as in life at large. The paper is fully illustrated from special photographs.

$100 GIVEN AWAY

To the Most Popular Teachers of Ohio County.

THE REPUBLICAN has always been friendly to the teachers of Ohio county, and has always received substantial aid from them and we have now determined to give $100.00 in presents to the teachers in a voting contest. We have four prizes, valued at $30, $25, $25 and $20, which we are going to give away. We are going to allow the teachers and people to say who shall have these presents. Two of the prizes will be given to the two most popular lady teachers and two will be given to the two most popular gentlemen teachers. We will publish every week two coupons in THE REPUBLICAN and all votes must be used as printed. It makes no difference how you get hold of the paper, just so you use the printed form as no other will be counted. The prizes will be distributed as follows:

1. To the young lady teacher who receives the largest number of votes we will give one of Geo. F. Cram's New Universal Globes, valued at $30. It is the finest Globe that is made.

2. To the young gentleman teacher who receives the largest number of votes we will give one of Cram's New Universal Atlas, valued at $25.

3. To the young gentleman teacher who receives the second largest number of votes, we will give a scholarship in Kenyon College at Hodgenville, valued at $20, making in all a total of $100 to give to the teachers.

We have made arrangements with Supt. Shultz to take charge of voting contest, to open the ballot box, count the votes, &c., The contest will close on the last day of the Ohio County Teachers' Institute, which will be held some time in August. The voting will be perfectly fair, and Mr. Shultz, together with his Board of Ex

Hartford Republican.

FRIDAY, JULY 2, 1897.

Office on Fox Street.

Published Every Friday at Hartford, Ky.

SAM A. ANDERSON, Editor.

Subscription, $1.25 per year.

Entered at the post-office at Hartford as second class mail matter.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

Election Nov. 2, 1897.

County Judge, Jas. A. Park.
County Clerk, M. S. Ragland.
Circuit Clerk, Sam A. Anderson.
County Attorney, M. L. Heavrin.
Sheriff, S. T. Stevens.
School Superintendent, Fon Rogers.
Jailer, Thos. H. Black.
Assessor, G. D. Royal.
Coroner, L. W. Hunt.
Surveyor, N. Moxley.

MAGISTRATE.

Hartford Dist.—Christopher Allen.
Cromwell Dist.—Jont B. Wilson.

Announcements.

For Representative.
We are authorized to announce
R. A. BYERS

As a candidate for Representative from Ohio county, subject to the action of the Republican party.

For Magistrate.
We are authorized to announce
THOS. H. FAUGHT

As a candidate for Magistrate in the Rosine Magisterial District, subject to the action of the Republican party.

We are authorized to announce
L. B. LONEY

As a candidate for Magistrate in the Rosine Magisterial District, subject to the action of the Republican party.

THE workers in the cotton mills of New England are already able to note the contrast between a Republican and a Democratic administration in the fact that the usually summer suspension of work, which has prevailed each year under the Wilson law, is to be omitted this season and the mills run on full time during the summer.

From time to time a free silver paper pops up and admits that times are growing better, and that the prospects for general prosperity are bright and encouraging. This is not in accordance with the free silver idea, as the advocates of that doctrine depend on hard times, poverty and wretchedness to establish their cause. Reason or argument has no place in the mind of the free silver advocate.

INDICATIONS are still favorable for the completion and final enactment of the tariff measure by July 4th. It is also likely that the House rates on wool, sugar, rice, and other agricultural products will be fully restored, since the Republicans of the Senate have already agreed to bring the wool schedule back to within one cent of the House rates, and it is likely that the conference committee will fully restore the House schedules on both wool and sugar.

ONE by one the assertions of the silver orators of last fall are being disproved. One of the most prominent of these was the frequently reiterated statement that prices of farm products and other articles kept pace with the prices of silver. No statement made during the campaign has been so thoroughly disproven by the evidence of the past six months as this one. Wheat has practically doubled in value, wool has gone up fifty per cent., sheep have nearly doubled in price, and other articles of farm production have largely increased in value, while silver has steadily gone down in price until it has reached nearly or quite the lowest point in its history.

THE convention to nominate a Republican candidate for the 10th Senatorial District composed of the counties of Meade, Breckinridge and Hancock will be held at Cloverport on July 24. District Chairman Allen R. Kinckeloe, of Breckinridge county, has issued a call to that effect. This district has heretofore been strongly Democratic, but we are informed that the Republicans have a splendid opportunity to elect their standard bearer this year. The Democrats have nominated Elisha Ashcraft, of Meade county, and the Populists have nominated Hon. H. C. Smith, of Hancock county. The Populists are in no pleasant frame of mind over the treatment accorded them by the Democrats. They demanded that the Democrats endorse Mr. Smith. The Democrats not only refused to do this, but nominated Mr. Ashcraft who is a Populist traitor, having deserted the Populist party in order to get the Democratic nomination for the office to which he now aspires. The Populists therefore have no love for Mr. Ashcraft and will fight him to the end. Those spoken of in connection with the Republican nomination are Dr. Heavrin and W. S. Sterrett, of Hancock county, and Col. R. M. Jolly, of Breckinridge county.

THE Republicans are willing for the gold Democrats to nominate the candidate, but they want him to go under the log cabin. While in this city recently Mr. Tylor was told that the gold Democrats would consent to have their candidate go under the log cabin.

"Then there is no chance for fusion," he replied. We could not afford to use the gold Democratic emblem.

There will be fusion in a number of races in counties and judicial and legislative districts. Those matters are left in the hands of local committees.

Senator R. H. Elliston has decided not to be an active candidate for the Appellate clerkship nomination, though he would accept if chosen.

Either Judge Wood, of Lexington, or Mr. John G. Ornduff, of Russellville, will probably be selected.

CUSTOMS receipts, first 33 months of Wilson law, $446,905,198; first 33 months of McKinley law, $533,767,447, loss in customs revenue under Wilson law, $87,862,349. No comment is needed.

THE New Yorkers are still in trouble over the prospective presence of unwelcome guests on the Fourth of July. They succeeded in "inducing" Mr. Bryan to stay away, but the irrepressible Altgeld announces that he will be there whether they want him or not, and that he proposes to make a speech.

Two Building and Loan Associations of Louisville have gone into liquidation, owing to the recent decision of the Court of Appeals, which they claim is adverse to them. The Commercial Building and Trust Co. was one of the companies that failed. Mr. E. M. Coleman is the manager and Mr. Lon M. Render, Secretary, both are Hartford boys.

WE notice from the Hartford Herald that they have two tickets at the head of their paper. One is the "Democratic Fusion Ticket," the other is the "Democratic Ticket." Why is this? They know the ticket will all be placed under the rooster and will be called the "Democratic Ticket." They are doing that in order to try to fool the Populists. They know the Populists will not support the Democratic ticket and they are trying to keep them in the dark as long as possible. If the Democrats of this county want to treat the Populists fair, why don't they put up an independent device, and that will not kill the Populist Party, otherwise they will destroy the Populists.

SINCE the appointment of Senator A. D. James as U. S. Marshal, the Republicans of this Senatorial District have been casting their eyes about for a man to succeed him. It was thought for a time that Hon. N. T. Howard, of Butler county, would be a candidate, but we notice that he has been nominated for Circuit Judge in his District, since then we have heard nothing more about him making the race. Ohio county has some good men, who would make a good race for the place. How would Hon. J. S. R. Wedding, of Hartford, or Hon. C. S. Taylor, of Cromwell, suit the people? Either of them would be a good man, but we do not know their inclinations regarding this matter, but we offer them as a suggestion. What about it?

THE free silver Democrats who rejoiced in alliance with Populism last fall will be interested to know that the middle-of-the-road Populists who are assured of the control of the coming convention of Populists at Memphis are out in a pronouncement against further monkeying with the semi-flat dollar, and propose to go to the full extreme of an absolute fiat paper currency. Tom Watson, who leads the middle-of-the-roads, says in a recent issue of his paper: "We genuine Populists contend that fiatism which is good for 40 cents is good for 100 cents. If the principle of fiatism is sound, it is sound all the way. If the Government stamp can make 40 cents out of nothing, it can make 100 cents out of the same material."

There will be no Fusion.
Wednesday's Courier-Journal in speaking of the National Democrats, says:

There will not be fusion between the gold Democrats and Republicans in the coming State election. If the Republicans want to elect a gold Democrat to the Appellate clerkship they will have to vote for the gold Democratic nominee under the Thomas Jefferson and hickory leaf emblem. The gold Democrats do not want fusion, so a large majority of the State and members of the State committees say. They have determined to make a flat footed fight for the National Democratic principles and party show that the 5,000 or 6,000 votes cast for Palmer and Buckner represent only a very small part of their strength. So it will be a waste of time for the Republican committee, appointed for that purpose to appear at the State Convention on July 14 and make a proposition for fusion. That committee was appointed at the meeting of the Republican State Central Committee in Frankfort during the last session of the Legislature, as was published in the Courier-Journal's Frankfort dispatches a week or two later, with the names of the members of the sub-committee, Messrs. C. M. Barnett and Geo. Leiberth and Attorney General W. S. Taylor. The proposition to be made was also published in detail.

The Republicans are willing for the gold Democrats to nominate the candidate, but they want him to go under the log cabin. While in this city recently Mr. Tylor was told that the gold Democrats would consent to have their candidate go under the log cabin.

"Then there is no chance for fusion," he replied. We could not afford to use the gold Democratic emblem.

There will be fusion in a number of races in counties and judicial and legislative districts. Those matters are left in the hands of local committees.

Senator R. H. Elliston has decided not to be an active candidate for the Appellate clerkship nomination, though he would accept if chosen.

Either Judge Wood, of Lexington, or Mr. John G. Ornduff, of Russellville, will probably be selected.

THE TARIFF BILL

Will Soon be Completed and We will Have Better Times.

Washington, June 28.—The tariff bill, when it reaches the President, will probably contain the House rates on nearly all the important features. While it could scarcely be expected that the senate would reject the amendments which its own committee had proposed and go absolutely back to the House schedule, there is a strong disposition among Senators to allow the conference committee to restore absolutely the House schedules on first and second class wools, sugar, pottery, farm products generally and many other articles in which the amendments made by the Senate committee have proven unpopular. The bill as framed by the House committee and passed by that body was especially acceptable to the agricultural interests, and especially acceptable to Republicans generally in the fact that it precluded the possibility of suspicion or successful charge that it was framed in the interests of or to the advantage of trusts of any kind. Whether the Senate amendments are more favorable to the trusts or not, the mere fact that many persons believe them to be so is likely to lead the conference committee to restore absolutely the House rates, and there is ever reason to believe that the Senate will promptly accept them.

The Hawaiian annexation treaty continues to be the subject of much attention and discussion, and the more it is discussed the more satisfactory it becomes and the greater the prospect of its ratification. While it is scarcely expected that it will be taken up for final action at this session, there is every reason to believe that it will be confirmed at no distant day and that the American flag, which was pulled down in Hawaii by an ex Confederate at the direction of Grover Cleveland, will be hoisted permanently under the direction of that Union soldier, William McKinley.

The fact that President McKinley has so promptly and successfully carried out this important feature of the foreign policy outlined by the St. Louis platform has given additional confidence in his wisdom and prospective success in shaping a satisfactory policy with reference to Cuba. The demand for instant action on this subject, which was so strenuous a month ago, seems to have entirely disappeared, and there is a disposition to permit the President to formulate and carry out his policy, which, it is believed, will be a just one and satisfactory to the friends of Cuba.

The protest of the people against Democratic delay of the tariff bill has been so loud and clear that even the members of that party could not resist it. The progress upon the bill this week has been rapid, so rapid that there is reason to expect that it will pass the Senate by the end of the month.

Not only is the progress made the bill extremely satisfactory so far as relates to the Senate, but the prospects are that the time occupied in conference will be unusually brief. Ordinarily a tariff bill is in conference several weeks, sometimes months. But there is reason to believe that the time occupied by the conference committee will be as brief, comparatively, as has been the time occupied with the other features of the bill. The fact that the Senate has restored the House rates in a large number of cases and has nearly reached the House figures on the most important of the changes made by Finance Committee reduces very much the time that the bill is likely to occupy in reaching a complete agreement, and the still stronger reason to hope that the bill may become a law by July 4th.

Tom Watson's Ultimatum
Atlanta, Ga., June 30.—Thomas E. Watson, late Populist candidate for Vice President, in an editorial in his People's party paper issued to day, discusses the Populist conferences to be held at Nashville next week and incidentally makes a severe arraignment of National Chairman Marion Butler's policy. In the course of this editorial he says:

"We would really like to know how Populist principles are to grow by being traded off, first to one of the old parties and then to the other, and we especially hunger and thirst to know how warfare on both the old parties is to thrive when an office barter-exchange is established in both."

"We trust the Nashville conference will decide the vexed question of fusion in such a manner that no Populist can be uncertain of the party doctrine."

"Our own belief is that no gentleman will remain in the Peoples party if the idea once gets abroad that Populism and Hessianism are synonymous terms."

"If our voters are mere mercenaries to be traded for office in any market where there is a demand for them, no decent man will be caught in that game."

Why Didn't They Endorse Parker?
Mr. Jo A. Parker, Populist nominee for Clerk of the Court of appeals opened his campaign at Somerset last week, and all through his speech he poured 'hot shots' into the Democrats for not endorsing him. He thinks the Democrats ignored the Populist on every occasion. Among other things he says:

That the politicians are standing between the people and reform was demonstrated when they willingly divided the silver vote by nominating Mr. Shackelford at Frankfort for Clerk of Court of Appeals. There was no excuse for that nomination. There was already a silver candidate in the field whose loyalty to the cause of silver could not be questioned. I had been nominated nearly two months before by the Peoples party. I had not been a candidate for the nomination, but my party unanimously called me, over my earnest protest, and pressed me into service. That convention thought that my candidacy would certainly be endorsed by the silver Democrats. They had good reason to think so. In 1896 the Peoples party of the entire nation laid down its party advantage and came to the support of Mr. Bryan. Without the Populist vote last year Mr. Bryan would not have carried a single State outside of the Black Belt of the South, where majorities are made up before the election. The Peoples party brought the great West to its standard. Here in Kentucky it gave its 25,000 thousand votes unanimously to Bryan. It did more. Rather than divide the silver vote last year, although the Democratic leaders refused to grant us any concessions, we took down our Congressional candidates in every district except two in the State, and gave our unwavering support to the silver Democratic candidates. Our votes elected Clardy, Rhea, Smith, Settle and Phelps Fitzpatrick. We were ignored as an ally in that fight. We got no return of courtesies for our hard fighting and our voting. Personally, I stumped the State for Bryan, speaking in every Congressional District. From the mountains to the Mississippi, I carried the banner of silver and fought the battle of Bryan. I never wavered. I never called upon the Democratic party for a cent of money to bear my expenses. And in view of all this, knowing that the office was an unimportant one, that no great principle was involved therein, my people felt sure that the Democratic party would not antagonize their nominee.

But it seems that those honest Populist reckoned without their host. The politicians smelled the fleshpots from afar, and threw principle and harmony and union of forces to the winds. Nowithstanding I had been in the field for two months, notwithstanding the loyal and self-sacrificing work my party had done for Bryan, and I myself had done when the battle raged fiercest, they put up a nominee of the Democratic party, and ignored the humble Populist whose only crime has been and honest adherence to principle when it required the severing of ties to maintain principle.

ANCIENT MARRIAGE LAWS.

Some of the Anglo-Saxon Customs Enjoined by the King's Decrees.

There are many curious features about the laws of marriage as administered under our early Anglo-Saxon and Danish kings, traces of which have survived in our existing jurisprudence. By the Anglo-Saxon laws, every woman was under the care of some man, who was termed her mundbor, or guardian; and no one could marry her without having first paid a sum of money as a compensation to her mundbor.

The father, of course, was the guardian of his unmarried daughters; the brother if the father died; and next to him the nearest male relative; if, however, the female were friendless and alone, she found in the king her legal guardian. There were no runaway matches, no clandestine and romantic nuptials, among the Saxon people; they did everything, even to their very love affairs, in a plain, matter-of-fact way; they estimated the value of the maid according to her rank in life, and the law fixed the sum which should be regarded as a legal tender to satisfy the avarice of her guardians. The first step in courtship, therefore, was to buy the consent of the mundbor; the lover was then admitted into the society of his lady-love, and allowed to claim her in due course as his wife. If, however, her personal charms or her disposition proved, on better acquaintance, unsatisfactory to her suitor and he failed to complete his bargain, he became immediately amenable to the law.

If a man ventured to marry without first having bought and paid for his wife, he was guilty of the crime of mound-breach; the consequences of which were both disastrous and vexatious. The husband, in such a case, possessed no legal authority over his spouse; he was a husband, in fact, without a wife; he had no right to her property; he could recover no compensation for any injury which another man should dare to offer her—she had not been paid for—the guardian had received no consideration; and all the damages or fines inflicted for such an insult were payable to the woman's mundbor.

If a man wished to take his wife into a foreign part, or into another than his land, he had to enter into a compact with her guardian that no wrong should be done to her, but that she should receive every mark of attention and kindness. If a man bought a maid and paid for her, no other could negotiate for her purchase; but if any fraud had been committed on her part, or on the part of her friends, she was returned home, and the man demanded back his money.

By the Saxon law, a maiden and a widow were of separate value; the latter could be purchased for one-half the sum which the guardian of a maid was entitled to demand; a man, therefore, who could not afford to purchase a maid, might perhaps be able to purchase a widow. The laws relating to the marriage of widows seem to discountenance second nuptials. The widow was compelled, by a law of Canute's, to continue husbandless for 12 months at least; if she married within that time, she forfeited all her marriage gifts, and all the property which she acquired by her first marriage was claimed by her nearest kinsman. Henry II. confirmed this deorous law.—Household Words.

SHERMAN.

Contemplable Attack of the Louisville Dispatch on our Venerable Secretary of State.

The Louisville Dispatch of June 26th contained an uncalculated and dastardly attack on Hon. John Sherman. The article is as follows:

The report which comes from Washington about the falling condition of Secretary Sherman's mind indicates the decadence of his mental and political power. It will be remembered how the newspapers gave publicly to the report about Secretary Blaine's health long in advance of the time when the general public realized his true condition. Every effort was then made to counteract the impression made by the publications about Mr. Blaine's health, but the reports were based on facts. There is no reason to doubt that there is a substantial foundation for the report about Secretary Sherman's mental condition. It is not yet time to write his obituary, but he lags superficially on the stage. His mission is over and his power is at an end. The same power that made him what he is took him out of the senate because he was no longer serviceable there, and made room for a more vigorous man. For a quarter of a century he has been the political agent in the senate, and out of it, of the money power in this country and Europe. That power used him to fasten its schemes of robbery on the people, and it is now using Mark Hanna to prevent their undoing. Sherman was backed up by the money power, but the dirtier work of using money in the elections was entrusted to another. Hanna is the chief corruptionist himself, and as argument has ceased to be as powerful as direct and open bribery, and as Sherman was failing, he was forced to stand aside and make room for Hanna. He was put in the state department to break his fall from power and ease him down to the grave, which will not bring him oblivion. He began in public life a poor man, but he has made himself many times a millionaire by using his influence to pauperize millions of his fellow citizens.

He now totters between the brink of the grave and the fate of an imbecile, pensioned on the public treasury in a position which he cannot fill. The administration would gladly ring down the curtains on his performance. Hanna and the Republican party of Ohio did not think it worth while to mention him in the state convention because they were no longer paid to expand their lungs in hurling his name to the welkin. He is already dead, and he foolishly delays his funeral and obstructs the public business. The good which he has done will be interred with his bones, if he ever did a good deed, but the evil which he has done will live after him, and men, women and children will suffer the consequences of his crimes a thousand years after his body shall have dissolved into dust. Every patriot should be rejoiced to know that this power for evil is gone. It would be improper to rejoice over his misfortunes, but we cannot restrain the thought that it would have been better, if he had been born at all, for him to have been born honest, or, if perchance, he was born honest it would have been better if he had died young. Judas Iscariot was a necessary part of the plan of salvation, and it may be that men like John Sherman and Mark Hanna have been sent as a curse to make the people of the United States repent of their sins against humanity and the teachings of the founders of the republic. The plagues visited upon Pharaoh and the Egyptians were not worse curses to them than such men as Sherman and Hanna are to the people of the United States. Perhaps it had become necessary to depose the people of their treasures and make life a burden in order to cure them of their idolatry of the money devil. The ways of providence are past finding out. It may be that Sherman's imbecility will be followed by Hanna's defeat, and this may be the beginning of a return to the principles laid down for our guidance by the fathers of the republic.

The people who use coal will do well to call on J. J. Foster, who is now operating the Elijah Miller bank, 33 1/2 miles south-west of Hartford on the Point Pleasant road. 48 26t

BOIES QUIT.

The Ex-Governor of Iowa Renounces Silver in No Unmistakable Language.

Waterloo, Ia., June 28.—"For one, I do not believe it possible to succeed upon a platform that demands unqualified free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 with gold. We have fought that battle and it is lost. We can never fight it over under circumstances more favorable to ourselves. If we hope to succeed we must abandon this extreme demand."

In these words Horace Boies, former Governor of Iowa, and erstwhile Democratic Presidential aspirant, addressed the voters of the United States, who demand the free coinage of silver. He does it through the medium of a letter to Col. D. M. Fox, of Des Moines.

"The friends of silver, although once defeated, are not yet demoralized. This will not be true after a second defeat," he warningly says.

Although Mr. Boies has in private frequently expressed hostility to the 16 to 1 plank of the Chicago platform, this is the first authoritative declaration from him to the effect. In public, he has declared it to be a dead issue he gives at length his reasons for asserting it to be such. He says the voters buried it under the belief that it meant silver monometallism, pure and simple, which would increase instead of diminish the great misfortune attributed to the single gold standard.

"It matters not," he says, "how we convince the people the gold standard is wrong unless we convince them that what we offer in its place is better instead of worse."

By the adoption of the 16 to 1 plank, he declares, the delegates to the Chicago convention forced the silver forces to assume the defensive for their new creed. The result, he asserts, was the weakening instead of the strengthening of their ranks, as their platform was battered by the arguments of their opponents.

"Only nervous" is a sure indication that the blood is not pure. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood and cures nervousness.

Good Times Coming.
Secretary of the Treasury Gage says:

"The evidence I have obtained from all sections of the country, from the press, from personal correspondence, all points in one direction—and actual improvement in trade and in manufactures. In some places this improvement is more marked than in others, and in some localities it has been scarcely felt at all."

"The business situation has particularly improved by reason of increased trade and enlarged manufactures in various kinds of industry."

"No one has spoken to me within the last month in a tone of discouragement. All of those with whom I have talked speak with a hope and expectation of prosperity, which is justified, they think, by a degree of improvement in their business affairs. Of course a settlement of the tariff question will furnish the country with the necessary data from which to make all the necessary estimates, and if not intimidated by war alarms or other depressing influences, and if sustained by the expectations of necessary financial reforms next winter, there is no good reason that can be pointed out to prognosticate a change except a recovery from business depression."

Subscribe for The Republican and get all the news.

CANE RUN.

Crops in this neighborhood are looking well. The wheat harvest is about over.

Mr. G. W. Stewart has the promise of Salem school this fall.

Prof. Lee Mills visited in this neighborhood this week.

Mrs. Sallie Peters happened to a very painful accident last week by falling and breaking her arm.

The Sunday School is progressing nicely at Fair View.

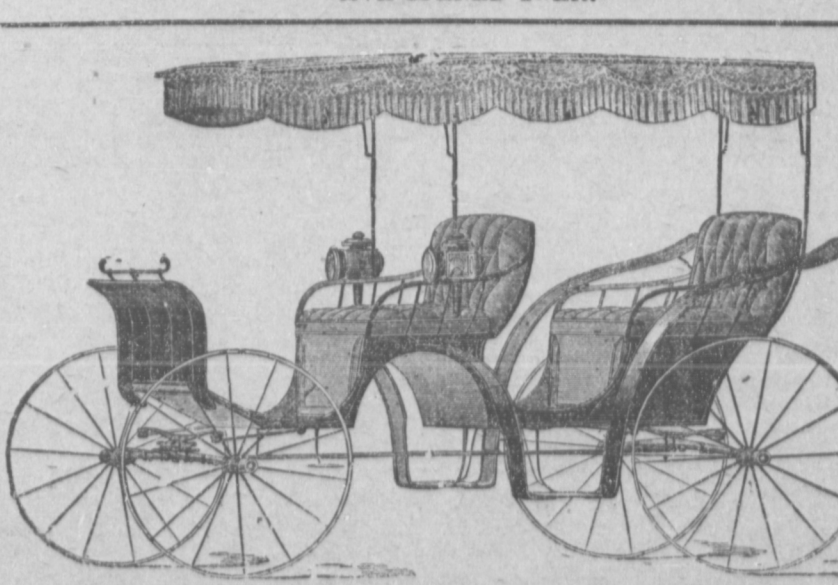

Mr. J. W. Jones is in our midst at this writing.

Mr. J. W. Daniel is on the sick list week.

ANDERSON.

HENRY FIELD & SON

—HAVE OPENED THEIR—

New TRANSFER LINE

To and From Beaver Dam.

A fine new OMNIBUS will meet all day trains at Beaver Dam. An elegant vehicle and good horses guarantees a comfortable ride. All orders promptly attended to. Leave order at Field's Livery Stable, corner Market and Union Streets, Hartford.

Good Blood

Is essential to health. Every nook and corner of the system is reached by the blood, and on its quality the condition of every organ depends. Good blood means strong nerves, good digestion, robust health. Impure blood means scrofula, dyspepsia, rheumatism, catarrh or other diseases. The surest way to have good blood is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine purifies, vitalizes, and enriches the blood, and sends the elements of health and strength to every nerve, organ and tissue. It creates a good appetite, gives refreshing sleep and cures that tired feeling. Remember,

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the best—in fact the One True Blood Purifier. Hood's Pills cure Liver Bile; easy to take, easy to operate, 25c.

No Duplicating the Issues.
Buy a suit that is honest clear through. Insist upon it. Costs no more than poorly constructed ones—gives a satisfaction never approached by one of the ready-to-wear kind. Keeps its shape as long as you wear it, and is a suit that will carry you safely anywhere. A man that wears a suit that "fits" him—MADE FOR HIM—always has a better opinion of himself, and feels more kindly toward the rest of humanity.

What kind of a suit do you wear? When you buy Pantalones—have them made to your order, too. We make them up for you from $4.00 up. Made right. Materials in any style you may fancy—no matter what sort—we have them and the price is always the lowest.

The Edward Rose & Co., Chicago—The Fashionable Tailors—that's the make—they put their names on the goods—it's a pledge of good workmanship—THYRINGTON. Everything that goes toward making your suit a finished product, is found in this make. The linings—the quality—the fit—the styles—it's just exactly right in every detail, or you can have your money back.

Every new weave and coloring that fashion dictates as chic—every idea that goes towards giving you that well-dressed appearance so much desired by all men, is found in Suits of this make.

Orders taken by Carson & Co., Hartford, Ky.

Everybody Says So.

Cascara Candy Culture, the most wonderful medical discovery of the present age, and refreshing to the taste, acting gently and positively on kidneys, liver and bowels, cleansing the entire system, dispelling colds, curing rheumatism, fever, habitual constipation and biliousness. Please buy and try a box of C. C. Candy; 10, 25, 50 cents. Sold and guaranteed to cure by all druggists.

For Sale.

A desirable farm of one hundred acres, situated near Hartford, well watered, a good orchard, two hundred bearing trees, good buildings and in good community. For further particulars call at this office at once. If Encklen's Arsenic Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Williams & Bell. 13-1 yr.

The Republican and the St. Louis Semi-weekly Globe-Democrat one year for $1.75.

EXCURSION TICKETS

VIA THE

Illinois Cen. R. R.

TO THE

TENNESSEE

CENTENNIAL

And International Exposition

—AT—

Nashville.

For the above excursion tickets will be sold by the Illinois Central Railroad at varying times, rates and limits, including a ticket on sale daily, good to return until November 7, and including tickets having limit of twenty days, fifteen days and seven days; also tickets on Tuesday and Thursdays of each week with limit of fifteen days. For full particulars as to which of the above applies from your nearest Railroad Station in connection with the Illinois Central Railroad, call on or address your nearest railroad Ticket Agent.

WM. MURRAY, Div. Pass. Agent, New Orleans.

JNO. A. SCOTT, Div. Pass. Agent, Memphis.

A. H. HANSON, G. P. A., Chicago.

W. A. KELLOND, A. G. P. A., Louisville.

PISO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
New London Spring, Tonic Good. Use
in Union. Sold by druggists.

WHERE THE HONEY IS

The Bees Will Come

So It Is With

FAIR & COMPANY

Where the goods are the people will come. We are showing for the heated term the prettiest line of dimities, lawns, mulls, swisses ever show in Hartford.

Will sell you

Handsome lawns 5c, pretty dimities 5c, domestic organdies 1 (white organdies 20c, dotted swisses 10c to 30c, Lappet mulls 16c. Any of these goods are what you want for the hot weather.

Besides these we have a lovely line of fans, white, black and blue parasols; white handkerchiefs, cooling underwear, etc., that you must have.

For the gentlemen we have linen suits, white duck pants, white vest, black serge coats and vests, black luster coats, fancy gingham coats, light airy underwear, belts, shirts, ties and many other articles that would prove very comfortable to you.

Visit us for hot weather goods as well as anything else you may want and we are sure to please you in prices and quality.

Hartford Temple of Fashions

FAIR & CO.

Southern Normal School

ESTABLISHED IN 1870.
LARGEST NORMAL SCHOOL IN THE SOUTH
ENGLISH TEACHERS' SCIENTIFIC AND CLASSIC COURSES. LOW RATES OF BOARD AND TUITION.
MUSIC AND EDUCATION TAUGHT BY SPECIALISTS.
CHERRY BROOK, NEW YORK

Hartford-Evansville Packet Line.
The Evansville and Hartford Packet, Janie Rae, leaves Hartford for Evansville every Tuesday and Saturday at 6 o'clock a. m. Arrives at Evansville every Tuesday and Saturday at 9 o'clock p. m. Returning leaves Evansville for Hartford every Tuesday and Friday at 9 o'clock p. m., arriving at Hartford every Wednesday and Saturday at 4 o'clock p. m. For cheap rates on freight apply on board of boat or to Jas. F. Carson, agent, Hartford, Ky. Your patronage solicited.
CAPT. W. H. MOORE, Manager.

Family Burned.
Tuesday's Louisville Evening Post contained the following dispatch from Spottsville:
A man from up Green river reported, while stopping here, enroute to Evansville, that a cabin in which a mover and his family of four were spending the night burned, and all the persons were cremated. He says the mover's wagon was found near the cabin, which was in ashes, and the blackened bodies of a man, a woman and three children were found in the ashes. No further particulars could be learned, except that the terrible occurrence was near Rochester.

Davies County.
The Owensboro Messenger says: Born to the wife of Judge Lucius P. Little, yesterday morning, a fine boy, Miss Juliette Thomas, of Hartford, who has been visiting Miss Mary Owen for several days, will return home to-day. Mr. Little Owen will accompany her.

Will Varden, who was shot by Jesse Mason last Saturday night, is gradually growing weaker and his physician says it is a matter of only a short time until he will die.
To-day his sworn testimony will be taken concerning the occurrence of Saturday night, in which he was wounded. This is to be done because it is not thought safe to wait longer. He will not live to testify in court, and the prosecution is anxious to have his evidence.

Malcolm Varden, who was also shot by Mason at the same time, was thought to be somewhat better yesterday, but he will have a close pull for his life.

Hartford Military Company has gotten in good shape for the Encampment and the boys are eager for the time to come when they can go to their annual outing. The Encampment this year will be at Fountain Park, near Louisville, and the Hartford boys will leave here next Tuesday morning.

Celebrated for its great leavening strength and healthfulness. Assures the food against alum and all forms of adulteration common to the cheap brands. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

The Floating Studio is at Calhoun. Summer underwear at Schapmire's. Buy your Groceries from Pate Bros. Bring us your country Produce. PATE BROS.

Miss Amanda Bennett is on the sick list this week.

Mr. W. G. Duncan, Louisville, was in town this week.

Mr. Lyman Williams returned from Hopkinsville last Friday.

Mrs. T. D. Herrell, of Morgantown, is visiting Mrs. A. T. Nall.

A new lot of home spun linen and white duck at Carson & Co.

A few boys G. A. R. Suits for $1.50 at Schapmire's. Ask to see them.

Remember Bullington will give you a good shave, hair trim or shampoo.

Mr. and Mrs. Jo Mulhall, of Louisville, are visiting the family of Mr. L. F. Wörner.

Mrs. S. K. Cox and daughter, Miss Corinne, are visiting relatives in Owensboro.

Miss Josie B. Duke, of Livingston, Mon., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Duke.

Mrs. Robt. McDonald, of Pennsylvania, is in the county visiting friends and relatives.

Just received a lot of spring wheat flour. The best you ever saw. PATE BROS.

Remember that since our boat has been running, we can't be undersold on Furniture. CARSON & CO.

The cheapest place in Hartford to buy Shoes and Furnishing Goods is at Schapmire's. Big bargains this week.

Hon. Jno. J. McHenry and wife and Mr. Wayne Griffin left Wednesday for Afton, Va., to visit friends and relatives.

Mr. Clayton L. Patton and sister, Miss Mary Patton, of Adaburg, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Patton this week.

Mr. Thos. Allen has been appointed post-master at Rosine and Mr. M. B. Crowder has been appointed post-master at Horse Branch.

Messrs. Heavrin & Taylor have received official notice that their client, Albert Austin, who was sentenced to the penitentiary for two years, had been pardoned.

The following named persons have paid their subscription to THE REPUBLICAN since our last issue: A. V. Thompson, Louisville, Jo L. Carson, Hartford.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Gregory, of Chicago, are visiting Mrs. Zelma Gregory. Mr. Gregory is manager of R. G. Dunn & Co. and has a very pleasant as well as a lucrative position.

Rev. E. M. Crowe, Conference Missionary Secretary, for the Louisville Conference M. E. Church South, will preach at Beaver Dam next Sunday at 11 o'clock a. m. and in Hartford at night.

Mrs. M. H. Briggs died at her home in this city Wednesday morning of flux. She had only been sick a short while until death claimed her, and she was borne away to meet her friends at the Judgment bar of God. She was a kind friend, a consistent church member and had lived a life of righteousness. She leaves many friends to mourn her loss.

Miss Pearl Brown, South Carrollton, visited Mrs. N. B. Fulkerson last week.

Miss Nola Her has been very sick. Last Sunday Rev. J. H. Richardson solemnized the rite of marriage to Mr. J. N. Withraw and Miss Lula Talley. We wish them a long and happy life.

Mr. John Simpson's son is very sick of typhoid fever. LOUIS.

Mrs. Lizzie Garrett is visiting relatives in Cromwell.

Miss Blanche Jones went to Evansville Saturday night.

Mr. Thomas Belcher and wife, Morgantown, visited relatives here last week.

Miss Nola Her has been very sick. Last Sunday Rev. J. H. Richardson solemnized the rite of marriage to Mr. J. N. Withraw and Miss Lula Talley. We wish them a long and happy life.

Mr. John Simpson's son is very sick of typhoid fever. LOUIS.

Mrs. Lizzie Garrett is visiting relatives in Cromwell.

Miss Blanche Jones went to Evansville Saturday night.

Mr. Thomas Belcher and wife, Morgantown, visited relatives here last week.

Miss Nola Her has been very sick. Last Sunday Rev. J. H. Richardson solemnized the rite of marriage to Mr. J. N. Withraw and Miss Lula Talley. We wish them a long and happy life.

Mr. John Simpson's son is very sick of typhoid fever. LOUIS.

Mrs. Lizzie Garrett is visiting relatives in Cromwell.

Miss Blanche Jones went to Evansville Saturday night.

Mr. Thomas Belcher and wife, Morgantown, visited relatives here last week.

Miss Nola Her has been very sick. Last Sunday Rev. J. H. Richardson solemnized the rite of marriage to Mr. J. N. Withraw and Miss Lula Talley. We wish them a long and happy life.

Col. Lem McHenry is in town.

Oxford ties at Schapmire's for 75c. Mr. N. J. Dilday, Louisville, is in town.

Mr. E. T. Williams, Louisville, was in town this week.

Mr. George Newman, Henderson, was in town yesterday.

There will be a picnic near Adaburg Saturday, July 17.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Field attended the Nashville Exposition last week.

Born to the wife of Mr. W. H. Manzy last Sunday, a twelve pound boy.

Miss Fannie Barnes, Beaver Dam, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Shelby Taylor.

Miss Mollie Duncan Morganfield, is visiting the family of Mr. B. D. Ringo.

Mr. and Mrs. Pardon Tabor, Vine Grove, are visiting the family of Mr. D. M. Hocker.

Mr. Wade Daniel, who lives about 3 miles East of town, lost his house by fire yesterday about noon.

Carson & Co are receiving railroad ties on the banks of the river at Hartford ready for shipment.

We will sell you a set of cane seated chairs, 1/2 doz. for $3. A nice rocking chair for $1. CARSON & CO.

Mrs. H. W. Rolph, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Jennie McHenry, returned home Wednesday.

Mr. Robt. A. Jones, foreman of the Hearld, left yesterday for Louisville where he will visit friends and relatives.

Prof. Wm. Foster, who has been attending Princeton University at Princeton, N. J., will arrive at home in a few days.

Mr. Frank Reynolds and wife, of Reynolds Station, and Mrs. W. P. Taylor, of Haynesville, were the guests of Marshal C. E. Morrison last Sunday.

Post master Wood Tinsley gave his friends a barbecue dinner at the Foreman place yesterday. A large number were in attendance and all spent a jolly time.

In another column we publish the semi-annual statement of the Ohio County Bank, which shows the Bank to be in a healthy condition. Capt. Cox is a good banker and runs his business on strictly business principles.

Mr. D. Luce's residence in the Southern part of town, was destroyed by fire last Saturday morning about 2 o'clock. It is supposed to have caught from the kitchen stove some way. Loss about $500 with $300 insurance.

Col. Lem McHenry and Mr. Lem H. McHenry left early last Saturday for Green river, near Cromwell, and returned home about noon, bringing with them 31 fish of the bachelor perch variety. They reported fishing extra fine, and from the number they brought in they had good sport stringing the funny tribe.

Mr. Jo B. Vickers was in Fordsville last week, where he met Mr. W. L. Graves, of Horse Branch, who informed him that he was contemplating the advisability of moving his ax handle factory to this place. From present indications it would seem that this would be a good place for Mr. Graves to locate. Shipping rates are very cheap from here.

Some thief entered Mr. T. Smith's yard last Wednesday night and attempted to carry off one of his beehives. Mr. Smith heard a noise in his yard during the night and got up and went out in the yard, but never saw anything of the thief. Whoever it was carried the hive to the fence and it is supposed that the bees stung him so that he abandoned his job and left it. There is no clew, as yet, to the attempted robbery.

Bro. Worsley Goes to Owensboro.
The Owensboro Messenger says: Once more Mr. Sam James has sold his newspaper business and Mr. A. S. Worsley, of the Fordsville Express becomes the editor and proprietor. The formal transfer will take place July 10. The paper will continue to be issued from the same office on St. Ann street. It will be changed in form to a five column, eight-page paper, but will be Populist in politics.

Mr. Worsley is a thoroughbred newspaper man, true and tried in the cause of reform and the Populists of Davies county are to be congratulated on their lucky acquisition.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 19, 1896. Messrs. Ely Bros.—I have used Ely's Cream Balm a number of years and find it works like a charm. It has cured me of the most obstinate case of colds in the head in less than 48 hours from the time I felt the cold coming on. I would not be without it. Respectfully yours, 238 Hart St. FRED'K FRIES.

Cream Balm is kept by all druggists. Full size 50c. Trial size 10c. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N. Y. City.

Miss E. E. Brooks.
MR. EDITOR:—If you will grant me the use of a small space in your valuable columns, I wish to introduce the lady whose name stands at the head of this notice, Miss E. E. Brooks who is principal of the Madisonville Normal school and recently appointed organizer of the W. C. T. U., which being interpreted means "Woman's Christian Temperance Union." This very influential and powerful organization of ladies, is wholly in the interest of temperance, sobriety and good morals, and therefore is free from all party and sectarian biases.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 19, 1896. Messrs. Ely Bros.—I have used Ely's Cream Balm a number of years and find it works like a charm. It has cured me of the most obstinate case of colds in the head in less than 48 hours from the time I felt the cold coming on. I would not be without it. Respectfully yours, 238 Hart St. FRED'K FRIES.

Cream Balm is kept by all druggists. Full size 50c. Trial size 10c. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N. Y. City.

Miss E. E. Brooks.
MR. EDITOR:—If you will grant me the use of a small space in your valuable columns, I wish to introduce the lady whose name stands at the head of this notice, Miss E. E. Brooks who is principal of the Madisonville Normal school and recently appointed organizer of the W. C. T. U., which being interpreted means "Woman's Christian Temperance Union." This very influential and powerful organization of ladies, is wholly in the interest of temperance, sobriety and good morals, and therefore is free from all party and sectarian biases.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 19, 1896. Messrs. Ely Bros.—I have used Ely's Cream Balm a number of years and find it works like a charm. It has cured me of the most obstinate case of colds in the head in less than 48 hours from the time I felt the cold coming on. I would not be without it. Respectfully yours, 238 Hart St. FRED'K FRIES.

Cream Balm is kept by all druggists. Full size 50c. Trial size 10c. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N. Y. City.

Miss E. E. Brooks.
MR. EDITOR:—If you will grant me the use of a small space in your valuable columns, I wish to introduce the lady whose name stands at the head of this notice, Miss E. E. Brooks who is principal of the Madisonville Normal school and recently appointed organizer of the W. C. T. U., which being interpreted means "Woman's Christian Temperance Union." This very influential and powerful organization of ladies, is wholly in the interest of temperance, sobriety and good morals, and therefore is free from all party and sectarian biases.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 19, 1896. Messrs. Ely Bros.—I have used Ely's Cream Balm a number of years and find it works like a charm. It has cured me of the most obstinate case of colds in the head in less than 48 hours from the time I felt the cold coming on. I would not be without it. Respectfully yours, 238 Hart St. FRED'K FRIES.

Cream Balm is kept by all druggists. Full size 50c. Trial size 10c. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N. Y. City.

Miss E. E. Brooks.
MR. EDITOR:—If you will grant me the use of a small space in your valuable columns, I wish to introduce the lady whose name stands at the head of this notice, Miss E. E. Brooks who is principal of the Madisonville Normal school and recently appointed organizer of the W. C. T. U., which being interpreted means "Woman's Christian Temperance Union." This very influential and powerful organization of ladies, is wholly in the interest of temperance, sobriety and good morals, and therefore is free from all party and sectarian biases.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 19, 1896. Messrs. Ely Bros.—I have used Ely's Cream Balm a number of years and find it works like a charm. It has cured me of the most obstinate case of colds in the head in less than 48 hours from the time I felt the cold coming on. I would not be without it. Respectfully yours, 238 Hart St. FRED'K FRIES.

Cream Balm is kept by all druggists. Full size 50c. Trial size 10c. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N. Y. City.

Miss E. E. Brooks.
MR. EDITOR:—If you will grant me the use of a small space in your valuable columns, I wish to introduce the lady whose name stands at the head of this notice, Miss E. E. Brooks who is principal of the Madisonville Normal school and recently appointed organizer of the W. C. T. U., which being interpreted means "Woman's Christian Temperance Union." This very influential and powerful organization of ladies, is wholly in the interest of temperance, sobriety and good morals, and therefore is free from all party and sectarian biases.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 19, 1896. Messrs. Ely Bros.—I have used Ely's Cream Balm a number of years and find it works like a charm. It has cured me of the most obstinate case of colds in the head in less than 48 hours from the time I felt the cold coming on. I would not be without it. Respectfully yours, 238 Hart St. FRED'K FRIES.

Cream Balm is kept by all druggists. Full size 50c. Trial size 10c. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N. Y. City.

Miss E. E. Brooks.
MR. EDITOR:—If you will grant me the use of a small space in your valuable columns, I wish to introduce the lady whose name stands at the head of this notice, Miss E. E. Brooks who is principal of the Madisonville Normal school and recently appointed organizer of the W. C. T. U., which being interpreted means "Woman's Christian Temperance Union." This very influential and powerful organization of ladies, is wholly in the interest of temperance, sobriety and good morals, and therefore is free from all party and sectarian biases.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 19, 1896. Messrs. Ely Bros.—I have used Ely's Cream Balm a number of years and find it works like a charm. It has cured me of the most obstinate case of colds in the head in less than 48 hours from the time I felt the cold coming on. I would not be without it. Respectfully yours, 238 Hart St. FRED'K FRIES.

Cream Balm is kept by all druggists. Full size 50c. Trial size 10c. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N. Y. City.

Miss E. E. Brooks.
MR. EDITOR:—If you will grant me the use of a small space in your valuable columns, I wish to introduce the lady whose name stands at the head of this notice, Miss E. E. Brooks who is principal of the Madisonville Normal school and recently appointed organizer of the W. C. T. U., which being interpreted means "Woman's Christian Temperance Union." This very influential and powerful organization of ladies, is wholly in the interest of temperance, sobriety and good morals, and therefore is free from all party and sectarian biases.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 19, 1896. Messrs. Ely Bros.—I have used Ely's Cream Balm a number of years and find it works like a charm. It has cured me of the most obstinate case of colds in the head in less than 48 hours from the time I felt the cold coming on. I would not be without it. Respectfully yours, 238 Hart St. FRED'K FRIES.

Cream Balm is kept by all druggists. Full size 50c. Trial size 10c. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N. Y. City.

Miss E. E. Brooks.
MR. EDITOR:—If you will grant me the use of a small space in your valuable columns, I wish to introduce the lady whose name stands at the head of this notice, Miss E. E. Brooks who is principal of the Madisonville Normal school and recently appointed organizer of the W. C. T. U., which being interpreted means "Woman's Christian Temperance Union." This very influential and powerful organization of ladies, is wholly in the interest of temperance, sobriety and good morals, and therefore is free from all party and sectarian biases.

Miss Brooks comes highly recommended for talents learning and high christian character, whose whole soul is wrapped up in her mission, which is to organize christian ladies to work in the great cause of Temperance reform. All thoughtful and intelligent people will be impressed with the importance of her mission. I therefore desire to invoke for her a becoming reception and polite attention during her visit to our town, which will be on the tenth and eleventh of next month. J. S. C. LEMAN, June 29, 1897.

Newspaper Mechanism.
Every column of a newspaper contains from five thousand to twenty-five thousand distinct pieces of metal according to the size of the paper and type, displacement of one of these means an error. Is it any wonder that errors sometimes occur? Still some people think it is awful to see mistakes in a newspaper.

Suicide at Owensboro.
Owensboro, Ky., June 30.—Mrs. Pauline Widmer and her pretty daughter, Miss Pauline, committed suicide with carbolic acid last night. They were found at 10:30 this morning, both dressed for their funeral and on a single bed.

The daughter left a note saying, "If I had not been so cross to mother this would not have happened; God has prospered us, and we ought to have been happy."

They were quiet people, and lived alone in comfortable circumstances. Two glasses had contained acid, and were on the table by the bed.

They had been dyeing and cleaning for tailors, owned a nice home, made a good living, and were highly respected people. It was a great surprise and shock to their friends.

Feeling Much Better.
"For several years I have been troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia, and often suffered intense pain. I was advised to try Hood's Sarsaparilla and soon after I began taking it I found it was giving me relief. My general health is much better since I began the use of this medicine."—Jane Peck, Rutledge, Tennessee.

Hood's Pills cure nausea, sick headache, indigestion, biliousness, etc.

Another Dividend.
The Ohio County Bank has declared another Quarterly Dividend of 5 per cent on the Capital Stock.

McKinley Right.
President McKinley has been conservative in his Cuban policy and has shown himself to be more far-sighted than many ranting and would-be politicians. The death of Dr. Ruiz and the treatment of the subjects by butcher Weyer have angered the American people to such an extent that nothing less than blood or a backdown by Spain will satisfy them. But McKinley is right and everybody knows that the twin purposes of his policy are peace and the independence of Cuba as declared by the St. Louis Convention. But just what steps the President will take or will ask Congress to take is yet a matter of conjecture. Like all statesmen of his type, he believes, in going slow, and his conduct will be based upon the information brought back by Commissioner Calhoun. It is an established fact that Dr. Ruiz, who was a practicing dentist in a suburb of Havana, was arrested on a false charge; was thrown into a vile prison; was kept "incommunicado" for 315 hours, although our treaty with Spain restricts such secret and solitary confinement to 74 hours, and that illegal imprisonment ended in his death by violence, whether self-inflicted or by his guards, the testimony does not show. It is true however, that an American citizen met his death while denied that protection prescribed by the treaty. According to McKinley's decision, Spain will be asked to atone for this cruel outrage, and just reparation besides will be demanded. The talk of the sensational and blazed press has amounted to nothing, and after all, McKinley has shown himself to be right, as he usually is, and the war and calamity howlers are wrong.

In his Cuban policy, McKinley has proved that he is safe at all times and knows full well what the cost of war is. Before many months, the President will also give the harping Democrats ample proof of better times through the workings of a protective tariff. It will work out as smoothly as the Cuban affair.—[Ashland News.

Statement of the Condition OF THE Ohio Co. Bank
At the close of business June 30, 1897.

RESOURCES
Loans and discounts . . . $20,489.98
Overdrafts secured and unsecured . . . 374.49
Cash on hand and in other banks . . . 5,251.45
Banking house . . . 5,000.00
Furniture and fixtures . . . 500.00
Expenses paid . . . 256.80
Debts in Suit . . . 32.40
Stocks and Bonds . . . 1,310.66
Total . . . $33,214.78

LIABILITIES
Capital Stock . . . $10,000.00
Deposits . . . 22,214.79
Undivided profits . . . 965.99
Total . . . $33,214.78
S. K. COX, Banker.
Sworn to before me by S. K. Cox, July 1, 1897. J. P. THOMAS, N. P. O. C.

To Cure Constipation Forever, Take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

To Cure Constipation Forever, Take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

To Cure Constipation Forever, Take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

To Cure Constipation Forever, Take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

To Cure Constipation Forever, Take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

To Cure Constipation Forever, Take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

To Cure Constipation Forever, Take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

To Cure Constipation Forever, Take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

To Cure Constipation Forever, Take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

To Cure Constipation Forever, Take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

To Cure Constipation Forever, Take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

To Cure Constipation Forever, Take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

To Cure Constipation Forever, Take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

To Cure Constipation Forever, Take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

To Cure Constipation Forever, Take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

To Cure Constipation Forever, Take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

To Cure Constipation Forever, Take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

To Cure Constipation Forever, Take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

To Cure Constipation Forever, Take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

To Cure Constipation Forever, Take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

BANQUET.
A Literary and Social Event at D. E. Thomas' Tuesday Evening.

On January 1, 1896, the Woman's Club of Hartford was organized. Since this time it has had its regular meetings and done its work in a way which led to one of the most pleasant as well as profitable evenings which Hartford people have had the privilege of participating in for many years. Never before were the men of our little city made to so thoroughly appreciate her noble women, married men the wisdom and worth of their wives, single men the beauty and good taste of their sweethearts. This event had been contemplated for some weeks and perhaps months for ought we know, but only a few days since did it culminate in the issuing of invitations to the 19th Century Club, with an additional invitation for each to be sent to some gentleman friend whom they might severally select, and just here it might be said, as can always be said of Hartford's fair maids, it would have been an honor to a prince to have been a "friend" of one of the 19th Century Club.

To say that the Club with its escorts were entertained in the most elegant style is but to voice the sentiment of everyone present.

The program as rendered was as follows:

Quintette—Miss Cate and Mrs. D. E. Thomas, Mr. D. E. Thomas and Dr. J. R. Pirtle.

Roll call, and response by quotations.

Address of welcome by President, Mrs. J. S. Glenn.

Club Reviewed 1st part—Mrs. L. P. Foreman.

Club Reviewed 2nd part—Mrs. T. L. Griffin.

The Maiden Martyr, Recitation—Mrs. D. E. Thomas.

The Kentucky Colonel—Mrs. J. S. R. Wedding.

This interspersed with music by Miss Cate and D. E. Thomas comprised the literary program. The program, as a whole, was rendered in a manner which showed that the Woman's Club lack neither talent nor energy.

If all our women could be such women as those who compose this club, or perhaps as well the 19th Century Club, and all other men such as Mrs. Wedding's ideal "Kentucky Colonel" we feel that civilization would be far on the way to perfection.

After the rendering of this very interesting program the guests were invited to a table whose beautiful decoration was sufficient to have bountifully repaid all for being present but this invitation did not end in mere seeing. A magnificent supper was served which all enjoyed equally as much as was anticipated by Mr. Holbrook.

Before partaking of the many good things to each which was the best to be had from the city markets and most elegantly served, we were entertained with toasts which were filled with wit and humor. We were also entertained with toasts between courses.

Judge J.

FIRST SWEETHEART

Of Lincoln and Gave the Future President the Mit-ten.

Her Interesting Story of Their Courtship and Her Estimate of the Statesman.

An interesting story of Abraham Lincoln's first and most ardent courtship has just come to light in the little mountain town of Calistoga, where the martyred President's first love dwells, a sweet old lady of 84. Mrs. Susan Boyce is the name of this charming octogenarian, who as Miss Susan Reid, of Salem, Ill., refused to marry Lincoln in 1826. She lives in a humble cottage with her sister. Her husband has been dead for many years and her principal income is a pension which she draws by reason of injuries her husband received in the Black Hawk War, while fighting side by side with Lincoln, whose friend he was.

Mrs. Boyce's estimate of the man who offered her his heart and hand 61 years ago is a little disappointing to hero-worshippers, for she does not consider that he was so great as he was honest, and says:

"He is not to be mentioned in the same class with Washington and Jefferson. I think Jefferson was the greatest of them all, because he wrote the Declaration of Independence."

Sitting on the front porch of her humble home to-day, Lincoln's first sweetheart was a beautiful picture of serene age. Her speech flows gently and without a tremor as she recalls the events of her girlhood thoughtfully, yet without hesitation.

Clad in a plain black dress, with a becoming white cap, she folded her arms and gazed toward the mountains that rise gently a few hundred feet beyond the front yard, and said:

"I can truthfully say that I have never been sorry that I married Mr. Boyce rather than Abraham Lincoln. You ask why, perhaps? Well, I'll tell you why. I have always been a believer in love, in romance, in idealism. I have been a novel-reader and a lover of poetry. I believe, too, in fate. It was not fate for me to marry Lincoln. He was an honest young man, but I did not love him. Why? I don't know, but I do know this, love is a thing that you can't force. In the first place he was homely, very awkward and very superstitious. He was a Spiritualist and believed in dreams. He often told me his dreams were prophetic. I did not like this very well. He was only a common rail splitter when I knew him, but he studied hard in his little cabin, and he was very entertaining. I never saw him after 1837, and I never heard him make a speech.

"He used to talk of the stars a great deal, and he seemed to me a very queer fellow. I was only a girl when I knew him, for I was born in Kentucky, and I first met Mr. Lincoln in 1836 at the home of a neighbor named Able. We were both guests at the house for the day. There were many young folks there, and I remember that Lincoln was very bashful. My father was at that time one of Lincoln's best friends. His name was Lewis C. Reid, and he took Lincoln to Springfield and introduced him to Wm. E. Seward, from whom he borrowed the first law books he ever read. He and my father were of the same political faith, and they often talked politics by the hour.

"But the smooth-faced and awkward young man whose memory the nation has long revered soon began to pay me more attention than he did my father, and this pleased my father more than it did me. In those days there were no buggies to speak of, and the way young folks courted very often was to go out on a horseback ride together. Mr. Lincoln often took me out horseback riding, and though he was not as ardent a wooer as I've seen since, he kept his case going pretty lively and pressed very hard for an answer. He pretended that he never loved a girl before and would never love anybody as he loved me, and I think he meant what he said; but I did not want to marry him, much as I liked his common sense, his absence of airs and his great honesty, so I invented a story.

"I told him I was engaged to a young man in Kentucky, but he did not give up for this, though it cooled his ardor a little for a time. Finally he told my father he would call one day for his final answer, but I made it a point to be away from home, and he never got it. My father lectured me severely for my conduct. He wanted me to marry Lincoln, and he afterward told me what a little dunce I'd made of myself, but my mother took my part, for she believed love was a thing for each individual to settle in his or her own heart. I can say that I have never for one moment regretted that I did not marry Mr. Lincoln, for if I could not give a man my whole heart I'd never marry him for money or position."

Mrs. Boyce tells of an interesting incident that occurred at a party one night, where a dozen young folks were trying to tell their fortunes with the aid of a common doorknob and a Bible.

"Mr. Lincoln was always interested in such things," she said, "and he at once wanted to know all about the game, so somebody explained it. It was this: The key was placed on a verse of the open Bible and when questions were asked the key was supposed to turn by supernatural power. I remember Lincoln asked, 'Will Susie marry a man whose name begins with L?' and the key did not move. Then he asked, 'Will she marry a man whose name begins with B?' and the key whirled. I have often thought that a strange thing. I was then going with a young man named Brooks, and did not then dream of Mr. Boyce, who became my husband."

A strange illustration of the Emersonian saying that the gods come in low guises—Olin in a hat, Jesus in a manger—is seen in Mrs. Boyce's estimate of the great man whose love she had half a century ago. Speaking of his mental qualities, she said:

"He was too changeable and easily influenced by other men, and he lacked stability. 'He did not have the education he ought to have had to be President, but I believe he was as honest as any man who ever lived.' I knew Miss Todd, whom Lincoln married, and I have heard on good authority that his marriage was largely influenced by outside advice. That is one of the reasons I say what I do about his lack of stability. Anyhow, as a young man he struck me as being moved by his dreams and by outside advice."

Mrs. Boyce says Lincoln's ardent courtship forced her to marry sooner than she would otherwise have done, for when her father scolded her for not accepting Abraham's offer, she married to escape unpleasant lectures at home. "Mr. Boyce might have been rich if he had not got to gambling," she said, "but we went to Texas in 1849 and came to California in 1854, and there were plenty of temptations for gamblers."

I knew Sam Houston well. He was not a bit like Lincoln. Houston loved to dance, while Lincoln never danced. That I can remember, but he often took me to singing school and church."

Mrs. Boyce says she has often felt proud in a way that she knew so good a man as Lincoln and had his love, but she says such a thing as worrying over what "might have been" has never crossed her mind for a moment, as she is a fatalist pure and simple.

"I believe that whatever way I'm to die I will die," she said, "and I believe marriage and all events of life are ruled largely in the same way. Regrets are useless and day dreams are a waste of time, but I do believe in romance and love. If love is not a fact then I have lived and reared my family in vain. After more than three-score years I can say that Lincoln was one of the best friends I ever had and one of the squarest men I ever knew. If he were alive to-day I'd be getting a bigger pension from the Government by reason of what my father and husband did for their country in the Black Hawk War."

The remarkable old woman who enjoys the distinction of having jilted Abraham Lincoln has blue eyes and silvery hair, though it was once raven black. She is 5 feet 7 inches tall, and is still active on her feet. The only deflection from perfect health is an eczema that troubles her face and head, for which reason she always muffles her head and neck—[San Francisco Call.

You must not make flesh of one and bone of another—make both for yourself by the using Dr. Bell's Peppermint Chili Tonic—do you good if you never had a chill. If you are having chills now it will cure them—cure them when everything else fails. For sale by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

Don't Tobacco Spit and Smoke Your Life Away. To quit tobacco easily and forever, be magnetic, full of life, nerve and vigor, take No-To-Bac, the wonder-worker, that makes weak men strong. All druggists, 50c or $1. Cure guaranteed. Booklet and sample free. Address: Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago or New York.

One of Mr. Depew's Stories. Mr. Depew's reputation as a good story-teller is so well known that it is unnecessary to comment upon it. Probably one of the best stories with which he delights his audiences is the one involving the question of supply and demand, and the regulating of prices solely by these two factors. In dispute of this Mr. Depew says that one day he was walking along a street and passed a German butcher shop. Out of curiosity he entered the place and inquired the price of sausages.

"Twenty cents a pound," replied the butcher.

"But," said Mr. Depew, "it seems to me I saw your sign this morning, and it read 'Fresh sausages, 25 cents a pound.' Why did you reduce your price?"

"Oh, dot was all right. I don't got none now and I can't sell any. Dot makes me a reputation for selling cheap, and I don't lose nod lings."

According to this, as Mr. Depew says, "There was no demand, as I didn't want any, and there was no supply, as the butcher didn't any, and yet the price of sausages went down"—[Harper's Round Table.

Electric Bitters. Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alternative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c, and $1.00 per bottle at Williams & Bell's Drug Store.

SHE BIDD HER TIME

He Told Her Wonderful Stories and Got a Pointer in Return.

Perhaps the most popular man connected with the Yellowstone Park Transportation company is Capt. E. C. Culver, of Gardner. In addition to the duties of justice of the peace, he makes a daily trip on the park train and personally interviews every man, boy, woman and child who travels on it. He is a walking encyclopedia of park information. He knows the height of every peak, the altitude of every important location, and can give you Prof. Hayden's theory of the park's geological formation. Besides all this he is a prince of good fellows and has a fund of humor which sometimes carries him away when touching up descriptions and legends of the park.

Some time ago the captain had an experience which was too good to keep, and he gave it away to a friend in town. He was going from the Springs to Cinnabar, and there were three very bright young ladies on the coach. One of them asked if it was customary to have so many mosquitoes in so high an altitude. The captain assured her that it was not unusual; that they were increasing year by year; that no mosquitoes were ever known in the park until, about eight years ago, a New Jersey schoolmaster had carelessly inclosed some in her trunk and let them out at Mammoth Hot Springs, when, like rabbits in Australia, they became an increasing pest.

All agreed that it was remarkable, but one girl seemed to carry a smile of incredulity. As the conversation continued, Mr. Culver was asked what he considered the most remarkable thing in the park. He said that if beauty and grandeur were to be left out of the count, he thought the most "remarkable thing" was Alum creek, a little stream putting into the river between the falls and the lake. Originally, he said, the distance between the hotels at the lake and the falls was 26 miles, but when they commenced to sprinkle the road between the two places with water taken from Alum creek some years ago, they soon found the distance between the hotels shortened by about eight miles. As the hotels were then only about eight miles apart and the road still shrinking, the superintendent ordered them to use no more water from Alum creek. And then the captain told another little legend about the creek that was quite well authenticated. Last year, he said, a party went through the park on a camping tour, and a young lady with them came into the park wearing number eight shoes.

After camping on Alum creek two days and bathing her feet she went home wearing a pair of number two galoshes.

At this point the girl with the incredulous smile said to him: "Don't you think it would be a good plan to bathe your head in that creek a time or two?"—[Livingston Post.

AS MANY AND NO MORE. One of the Advantages That Came from Being Bald-Headed.

A bald-headed lawyer was engaged in the discussion of a legal question relating to the construction of a certain statute. Opposed to him was Judge Barry, of Elgin, Ill., who is a forcible speaker, but who sometimes depends upon his recollection of the words of the law, which he may not have recently read. During the argument his bald-headed adversary believed the statute had been misquoted and interrupted by saying he was satisfied Judge Barry had never read the law.

Barry retorted that he had read the statute repeatedly, "and, in fact, as many times as his opponent had hairs on the top of his head." The latter, with his forefinger pointed to a place as bald as a billiard ball, promptly replied: "Yes, just as many and no more." This ended the argument, and the bald-headed lawyer won his case.—[Chicago Times-Herald.

Curious Life Insurance. To quit tobacco easily and forever, be magnetic, full of life, nerve and vigor, take No-To-Bac, the wonder-worker, that makes weak men strong. All druggists, 50c or $1. Cure guaranteed. Booklet and sample free. Address: Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago or New York.

Mr. Depew's reputation as a good story-teller is so well known that it is unnecessary to comment upon it. Probably one of the best stories with which he delights his audiences is the one involving the question of supply and demand, and the regulating of prices solely by these two factors. In dispute of this Mr. Depew says that one day he was walking along a street and passed a German butcher shop. Out of curiosity he entered the place and inquired the price of sausages.

"Twenty cents a pound," replied the butcher.

"But," said Mr. Depew, "it seems to me I saw your sign this morning, and it read 'Fresh sausages, 25 cents a pound.' Why did you reduce your price?"

"Oh, dot was all right. I don't got none now and I can't sell any. Dot makes me a reputation for selling cheap, and I don't lose nod lings."

According to this, as Mr. Depew says, "There was no demand, as I didn't want any, and there was no supply, as the butcher didn't any, and yet the price of sausages went down"—[Harper's Round Table.

Electric Bitters. Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alternative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c, and $1.00 per bottle at Williams & Bell's Drug Store.

See our young contest in another column for the teachers.

Liver Ills

Like biliousness, dyspepsia, headache, constipation, sour stomach, indigestion are promptly cured by Hood's Pills. They do their work easily and thoroughly.

Best after dinner pills. 25 cents. All druggists. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. The only pill to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

COURTSHIP AND MARRIAGE.

The Period in a Man's Life When He Is Most Attractive.

There was a cynical fellow in the middle ages, who under the sarcastic title: "The Fifteen Joys of Marriage," wrote an elaborate description of 15 woes, which were likely, one or all, to distress the foolish man who had slipped like a fish into the great net of matrimony. It is not probable, however, that his little treatise turned a single man from the error of his way. How should it have, when the great weight and authority of Mr. Punch had not been able in these days to make any appreciable difference in the issue of marriage licenses? Yet the genial philosopher's advice, which is an everlasting shame to Mrs. Judy, was perfectly decided. The truth is, men will not take advice which they do not want, no matter who offers it. They know that all the world loves them when they are lovers, and so the vain creature will go a-wooing. All the pretty business of kneeling and sighing is becoming; when a man is courting he is more interesting than he has ever been or ever will be again. Whether it be Jockey who dons his Sunday coat to propitiate his goddess of the hay field, or the fine gentleman who swears at his valet for a speck of dust when dressing for a certain important interview, he is worthy of notice, and even the frog, when he will a-wooing go, becomes a hero fit for poetry.

The uneasy period of courtship tries the souls of men and shows what stuff they are made of, and therefore the manners of men of the fifteenth century, when marrying or trying to marry, indicate very fairly the refinement of society at that time.—[Emily Daily Stone, in Lippincott's.

Early Dictionaries.

The first dictionary was compiled by Pamphilus, a Chinaman, who lived about 1,100 years B. C. It contained about 40,000 characters, most of them hieroglyphics. The first Latin dictionary was compiled by Varro, who died 23 B. C. "Onomasticon," a collection of vocabularies in Greek, by Julius Pollux, was published about 77 A. D. The first Hebrew dictionary was compiled by John E. Avenar in 1621. Every state in Europe except England has had prepared under government authority a standard dictionary of its own language. The standard dictionaries of England have been prepared under the auspices of the universities.

Cups and saucers are now all molded by mechanical appliances. The glaze is laid on, the finer qualities are hand painted, and the cheaper are stamped with stencils, ere the baking is done.

Koumiss, the stimulating and intoxicating drink invented by the Tartars, is made from fermented milk; that of the mare being generally preferred.

Another Blow for Silver. The Peruvian government in April suspended the coinage of silver and decided to prohibit its importation after May 10. It is probable that Peru wished to borrow money and that she could not do so while on a silver basis without paying very high rates of interest. The Shylocks of Europe refused to loan at low rates and to take chances of losing more by the depreciation of silver than they would gain from the interest. Oh, these wicked, grasping Shylocks who refuse to loan money at a loss!

No-To-Bac for Fifty Cents. Guaranteed tobacco habit cure makes weak men strong, blood pure. 50c. B. All druggists.

The Republican and Thrice-a-week N. Y. World for $1.65 per year.

Money Saved. Notwithstanding our burnt-out last July we are still headquarters for all kinds of Farming Implements.

Best quality of Steel and Chilled Plows. Both Walking and Riding Brakes Corn Drill, Check-row Planters, Riding and Walking Cultivators with and without tongues, Disc Harrows, Fencing Wire plain and barbed. Osborne Mowers and Binders, Huber Threshing Machine, Traction engines. All above implements are guaranteed to be of the best quality. First-class repairing of all kinds done promptly. Horse-shoeing a specialty, also a full line of fertilizers for tobacco. You will find us at our old stand on First and Railroad St. Come in and see us.

WILLIAMS & WILLIAMS, BEAVER DAM, KY.

WHO IS YOUR TAILOR?

Do You Get a CORRECT FIT? YOU RECEIVE THE BENEFITS OF 20 YEARS OF SUCCESS

IN HIGH GRADE TAILORING BY ORDERING YOUR SUITS AND OVERCOATS OF M. BORN & Co.

THE GREAT CHICAGO MERCHANT TAILORS. We guarantee to fit and please you, and save you money.

300 NEW SAMPLES TO SELECT FROM AT JAS. A. THOMAS'.

ANDY CATHARTIC

Cure Constipation

REGULATE THE LIVER

ALL DRUGGISTS

ABSOLUTELY GUARANTEED to cure any case of constipation. Castor oil and other cathartics are deadly and cause many deaths. Andy Cathartic is a safe and reliable remedy. It is a natural product of the earth and is entirely free from any poisonous or dangerous ingredients. It is a perfect cure for constipation, and is sold by all druggists. Price, 25c. per bottle. Address: J. A. Thomas, 317 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.

General Directory.

STATE OFFICIALS.

Governor—William O. Bradley. Lieutenant Governor—W. J. Worthington. Secretary of State—Charles Finley. Attorney General—W. S. Taylor. Auditor—Samuel H. Stone. Treasurer—Geo. W. Long. Commissioner of Agriculture, Horticulture and Statistics—Lucas Moore. Superintendent Public Instruction—Geo. M. Dayton. Register Land Office—Chas. O. Reynolds. Insurance Bureau—Commissioner—D. W. Comings. Adjutant General—D. R. Collier. State Librarian—Mrs. Mary Brown Day.

RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS. Jno. C. Wood, chairman; J. F. Dempsey, H. S. Irwin, Secretary—Samuel F. Brown.

CONGRESSIONAL. Senators—Hon. William C. Lindsay, Hon. J. C. Blackburn. Representative Fourth District—Hon. John W. Lewis.

STATE LEGISLATURE. Senator—Hon. A. D. James. Representative Ohio County—Hon. C. M. Barnett.

OHIO COUNTY. CIRCUIT COURT. Hon. W. T. Owen, Judge—Owensboro.

Hon. J. Edwin Rowe, Attorney—Owensboro. T. H. Black, Jailor—Hartford. G. B. Likens, Clerk—Hartford. B. D. Ringo, Master Commissioner—Hartford. G. B. Likens, Trustee Jury Fund—Hartford. Cal. P. Keown, Sheriff—Hartford. Deputies—Samuel Keown—Hartford—Joe Roberts, Fordville; Thos. R. Bishop, Centerville; S. T. Stevens, Cromwell.

Court convenes first Monday in March and August and continues three weeks, and third Monday in May and November—two weeks.

COUNTY COURT. John P. Morton, Judge—Hartford. D. M. Hocken, Clerk—Hartford. E. P. Neal, Attorney—Hartford. Court convenes first Monday in each month.

QUARTERLY COURT. Begins on the third Monday in January, April, July and October. COURT OF CLAIMS. Convenes first Monday in January, and Tuesday after the second Monday in October.

OTHER COUNTY OFFICERS. G. S. Fitzhugh, Surveyor—Sulphur Springs.

N. C. Daniel, Assessor—Cromwell. Z. H. Shultz, School Supt.—Hartford.

L. W. Hunt, Coroner—Sulphur Springs. C. R. Campbell, Poorhouse Keeper, Hartford.

JUSTICES' COURTS. A. S. AULL—March 3, June 1, September 1, December 1.

JON B. WILSON—March 6, June 6, September 4, December 4.

C. L. WOODWARD—March 12, June 11, September 10, December 10.

JAS. A. BOWLER—March 20, June 19, September 18, December 18.

B. F. GRAVES—March 25, June 20, September 23, December 24.

For Catarrh Hay-Fever Cold in Head

ELY'S CREAM BALM is a positive cure. Apply into the nostrils. It is quickly absorbed. 60 cents at Druggists or by mail; samples free, by mail. ELY BROTHERS, 66 Warren St., New York City.

The Republican and Thrice-a-week N. Y. World for $1.65 per year.

Money Saved. Notwithstanding our burnt-out last July we are still headquarters for all kinds of Farming Implements. Best quality of Steel and Chilled Plows. Both Walking and Riding Brakes Corn Drill, Check-row Planters, Riding and Walking Cultivators with and without tongues, Disc Harrows, Fencing Wire plain and barbed. Osborne Mowers and Binders, Huber Threshing Machine, Traction engines. All above implements are guaranteed to be of the best quality. First-class repairing of all kinds done promptly. Horse-shoeing a specialty, also a full line of fertilizers for tobacco. You will find us at our old stand on First and Railroad St. Come in and see us.

WILLIAMS & WILLIAMS, BEAVER DAM, KY.

WHO IS YOUR TAILOR? Do You Get a CORRECT FIT? YOU RECEIVE THE BENEFITS OF 20 YEARS OF SUCCESS

IN HIGH GRADE TAILORING BY ORDERING YOUR SUITS AND OVERCOATS OF M. BORN & Co.

THE GREAT CHICAGO MERCHANT TAILORS. We guarantee to fit and please you, and save you money.

300 NEW SAMPLES TO SELECT FROM AT JAS. A. THOMAS'.

ANDY CATHARTIC

Cure Constipation

REGULATE THE LIVER

ALL DRUGGISTS

ABSOLUTELY GUARANTEED to cure any case of constipation. Castor oil and other cathartics are deadly and cause many deaths. Andy Cathartic is a safe and reliable remedy. It is a natural product of the earth and is entirely free from any poisonous or dangerous ingredients. It is a perfect cure for constipation, and is sold by all druggists. Price, 25c. per bottle. Address: J. A. Thomas, 317 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.

SEE OUR YOUNG CONTEST IN ANOTHER COLUMN FOR THE TEACHERS.

SEE OUR YOUNG CONTEST IN ANOTHER COLUMN FOR THE TEACHERS.

SEE OUR YOUNG CONTEST IN ANOTHER COLUMN FOR THE TEACHERS.

SEE THAT THE FAC-SIMILE SIGNATURE OF

Chas. H. Fletcher

IS ON THE WRAPPER OF EVERY BOTTLE OF

CASTORIA

Castoria is put up in one-size bottles only. It is not sold in bulk. Don't allow anyone to sell you anything else on the plea or promise that it is "just as good" and "will answer every purpose." See that you get C.A.S.T.O.R-I-A.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper.

900 DROPS

CASTORIA

Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomach and Bowels of

INFANTS, CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC.

Made at Dr. J.C. FLETCHER'S

Pumpkin Seed -
Sulphur -
Rhubarb -
Senna -
Licorice -
Glycerine -
Water -

A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and Loss of Sleep.

Fac-Simile Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

NEW YORK.

4th months old
35 DROPS - 35 CENTS

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

The N. Y. WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

—FOR—

EVERY member of EVERY family on EVERY farm, in EVERY village, in EVERY State and Territory.

FOR Education, FOR Noble Manhood, FOR True Womanhood.

IT gives all important news of the Nation. IT gives all important news of the World. IT gives the most reliable market reports. IT gives brilliant and instructive editorials. IT gives fascinating short stories. IT gives an unexcelled agricultural department. IT gives scientific and mechanical information. IT gives illustrated fashion articles. IT gives humorous illustrations. IT gives entertainment to young and old. IT gives satisfaction everywhere to everybody.

We furnish THE REPUBLICAN and NEW YORK WEEKLY TRIBUNE, both papers

ONE YEAR $1.25 in Advance

Address all orders to the

HARTFORD REPUBLICAN, Hartford, Ky.

Write your name and address on a postal card, send it to Geo. W. Best Room 2, Tribune Building, New York City, and sample copy of THE NEW YORK WEEKLY TRIBUNE will be mailed to you.

KING'S COMMERCIAL COLLEGE

AND SHORTHAND INSTITUTE S. E. Cor. 5th and Market Sts., Louisville, Ky. Entrance on 5th St.

Affords the best facilities for thorough practical training in SHORTHAND, TYPE WRITING and BOOK-KEEPING. Success assured in THREE MONTHS. Terms moderate. Pupils assisted to POSITIONS when competent. Business men furnished Stenographers FREE OF CHARGE.

JNO. L. KING, Prin.

Do you want any PRINTING?

If you do, we are ready to receive your orders for any thing in that line. We print

Letter Heads, Note Heads, Bill Heads, Statements, Business Cards, Circulars, Visiting Cards, Dodgers, Wedding Invitations, Horse Bills, Prescription Blanks, Jack Bills.

In fact everything that you want printed. All work first-class and at lowest prices. Write or call for estimates.

THE REPUBLICAN, Hartford, Ky.

Our Clubbing Rates.

The Republican and the Louisville Commercial...$1.25

" and Semi-Weekly Courier-Journal... 1.50

" and Semi-Weekly Globe-Democrat... 1.75

" and New York Tribune... 1.25

" and Louisville Daily Post... 2.75

BOOK-KEEPING, SHORTHAND, TELEGRAPHY, PENMANSHIP, ETC.

Every Young Man and Woman Who desires to better his or her condition in life, should write for the Catalogue of the BRYANT & STRATTON BUSINESS COLLEGE. No. 400 THIRD STREET, LOUISVILLE, KY.